

SUNRAISE: Sustainable Natural
Resource Use in Arctic and High
Mountainous Areas
Sonali Sharma
BIOSKETCH

Sonali Sharma is a PhD Research scholar at Spatial Analysis and Informatics Laboratory (SAIL), SES, JNU since July 2018. She holds a masters degree in Environmental Sciences from Central University of Rajasthan. Her credentials include Department of Science and Technology (DST) India: INSPIRE fellow, 2012-2015; Indian Academy of Sciences: Summer Internship Fellow, 2016 and Council of Science & Industrial Research (CSIR) - National Eligibility Test (NET): All India rank (AIR) 4, 2017; University Grant Commission (UGC)- NET, 2017: Qualified, 2017; and CSIR- Junior Research Fellow (JRF): AIR 29, 2019.

Academic interest: Impact of urbanization induced land use land cover change to the fragile ecosystem of Western Himalaya specifically in terms of physical regulating ecosystem services.

PhD topic: Monitoring regulating ecosystem services in urbanising landscapes of Western Himalaya

PhD supervisor: Prof. PK Joshi